Club Fair Dec. 7.

Every reader is again cautioned to remember the Book and Thimble club fair to be held at the opera house on Tuesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 7. All articles except plants, vegetables and canned goods may be taken to the opera house at any time on Monday, Dec. 6. Those having quilt blocks are requested to return them to the proper committee at once. The ladies have worked hard and have been diligent to make this fair one of the most successful events of the season and that measure of success already seems assured. The proceeds of the fair will be used for the benefit of the village library.

Congregational Church Notes.

The mid-week service will be held in the chapel tonight at 7.30. We hope to make the service especially appropriate to the Thanksgiving season and trust a goodly number may be present. Morning worship Sunday at the usual hour. Sermon by the pastor upon a timely and important theme and good music by the choir. All not worshipping elsewhere are cordially invited.

The Sunday school will meet at the close of morning worship. Lesson topic is "Amos the Fearless Prophet." Classes for all ages.

The recently organized "Citizens" class which meets in the chapel Sunday noons is having an increasing attendance and proving very interesting. All the men in the parish not connected with the Sunday school classes are earnestly urged to join.

The Sunday evening service is at 7.15 o'clock. The first portion will be devoted to song, after which the pastor will speak briefly upon some practical theme. All who can attend this service are very cordially invited to do so. The missionary meeting last Sunday evening was very interesting and had a good attendance. The report of the recent state and national meetings presented by Mrs. Magoon indicated the world-wide extent of the work, carried on and was an excellent summary of the salient features of the meetings. The readings by Mrs. Gross and Miss Gilles were timely and added to the interest of the service. The selections by the young people's choir were much enjoyed and Mrs. Barron's words also contributed to the interest and profit of the meeting. Similar services should be held more frequently.

A "Niggardly" Show.

The Rockwell Sunny South company played to a full house here Monday evening. The two open-air concerts attracted large crowds and the whole affair was well received. The entire troupe was composed of colored people and our only criticism is that the management was too niggardly with its tickets for the press. The fact that we only got one ticket inspires us to arise and proclaim that hereafter, unless we get two tickets for both local and transient shows, we shall tell the truth about them.

Methodist Episcopal Church Notes.

The meeting tonight will be a Thanksgiving service, which young and old are invited to attend.

Sunday services. Sermons by the pastor at 10.30 a.m., and 7.15 p.m. Bible school following the morning service to which young and old are cordially invited. Junior League at 3 o'clock. The children will find this an interesting and profitable hour.

The meeting at 7.15 opens with a praise service.

The singing by a choir of young ladies was much appreciated. Be a "Sunday Nighter." That is one way to help, and a way in which all can help. The pastor will speak briefly on a practical gospel theme.

District Superintendent Lowe is expected to be with us Sunday evening, Dec. 5th.

We call attention of the public to the Scientific Temperance posters exhibited in front of the church each week. The information given is worth considering thoughtfully. It is not guess work, but based on the most exact investigation. A new poster each week until March.

School Makes Fine Showing.

The school exhibit Friday afternoon and evening was a decided success. During the afternoon many parents visited the school and discussed school problems with the teachers. Great interest was shown in the various exhibits of each room, showing that the hard work done by the pupils in preparing the exhibits was appreciated by the public. As soon as school closed for the afternoon, people began to gather about the domestic science and agricultural exhibits. The girls had prepared cakes, pies, preserves, jellies and fancy work, which were displayed upon a prettily decorated table in the domestic science room. The girls gave full explanations of their work. The boys of the agricultural course separated milk and made the cream into butter and the skimmed milk into cheese. The manner in which the crackers, butter and cheese were disposed of by the visitors attested to the popularity of their work. The crops class showed the greenhouse and were proud to point out the fourth premium which the school won at the recent Rutland exposition. The whole exhibit was such a decided success that it will be repeated next year.

ORLEANS

W. F. Scott was a business visitor in Boston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pierce are visiting friends and relatives here.

Miss Clara Dwinell has resigned her position as a teacher here.

Mrs. Gertrude Fischlin has gone to Newport to spend the winter.

Miss Grace Heath has finished her school at Newark and returned home.

Miss Hazel Wells is assisting in the office of the N. E. telephone company.

The schools have closed for a week and will begin again on Monday, Nov. 29.

The admission to the feature plays at the opera house will be ten cents in the future.

Miss Edna Morse has gone to Portland, Me., to spend the winter with her sister.

There will be a regular meeting of the Masons Thursday evening. The second degree will be worked.

Miss Rebecca Rash has gone to New Haven, Conn., where she has a position in a department store.

No one has brought any venison to our house so that we assume that the lucky hunters do not care to have their success reported.

There are advertised letters for Mrs. G. B. Blodgett, Mrs. A. L. Calkins, Mrs. E. J. Johnson, Ed. Hayes, Irving Stewart and M. E. Fuller.

The village fire department have purchased 500 feet of new hose for emergency purposes. The department now has sufficient hose to cope with any possible fires in the village.

Mrs. Joel Temple has received word that her daughter, Mrs. Bell Elliott, has returned to Brightlook hospital at St. Johnsbury for a second operation. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

The lights were out again one evening last week on account of the high wind. This is getting to be so regular that when the people of Orleans read the weather report calling for moderate winds they at once polish up the lamp chimneys.

The Barre Times editorially commends one of our Orleans boys in the following words: "A Vermont young man—Henry Stafford of Orleans—is no single-track college student, as we note by the announcement he has won the prize for highest scholastic and athletic honors in Tufts college for the year, besides being captain of the baseball team for the coming season. A single track student who devotes all his attention to athletics or to his books loses something of the all-around development which a college course of training is supposed to give. Student Stafford is giving an exemplification of the happy blending of the two."

Opening Production of Harrison Dufayne Associate Players' Company.

One of the feature plays in the repertoire of the Harrison-Dufayne Associate Players, "A Wife's Honor," will be offered at Orleans opera house Monday evening. "A Wife's Honor" was originally produced in New York and had a long run of over five months. Chicago, Philadelphia all pronounced it the best comedy drama of the season. "A Wife's Honor" is sure to please all tastes, for while the comedy element predominates there is an excellent plot and it is teeming with heart throbs. A story that teaches a moral lesson but in such a way that with a happy ending one leaves the theatre with a feeling of peace and a realization that the man who is all hero or villain has no place in the modern play. The play is a slice of human life and the audience lives and feels with each of the characters and votes it a matinee well spent. The production gives wide scope for an elaborate display of costumes and stage embellishments and Charles Harrison has spared no details in making this piece one of the features of his large repertoire. It is worthy of notice that this will be the first time that "A Wife's Honor" has ever been presented by a stock company. There will be four high-class vaudeville acts, between the acts. Seats now on sale.

Nov 17, the Book and Thimble club met with Mrs. Locke, with 24 present. Roll call responded to by current events. A vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Julia Stafford for gifts to library. Attention of the members was called to the fair to be held Dec. 7th. Two very interesting papers were given, "High Standards in Literature," Mrs. G. B. Rowell, "Popular Tastes in Fiction," Mrs. A. G. Fletcher. The next meeting will be held at the Congregational chapel, Mrs. Winnie Twombly, hostess.
